Dear Capt Duggan

Re: Australian International Pilots Association
Outstanding Annual Return of Information for Year 2003

From the records held in the Industrial Registry it would seem that the Annual Return of Information for Year 2003 is outstanding in respect of the body specified above.

As you are no doubt aware the Workplace Relations Act 1996 provides that each organisation must keep certain records relating to membership and office holders, and requires each organisation to lodge particular information in the Industrial Registry on an annual basis. Such information should be lodged once in each year at any time during the period of three months commencing 1 January.

As there is a mandatory obligation on organisations to supply this information, you are requested to lodge the outstanding information under cover of a statutory declaration by 25 June, 2003.

A summary of the information required to be lodged annually is set out in the accompanying document.

You should also note that the provisions relating to the annual lodgement of records has been modified by amendments to the Act effective from 12 May 2003. This will affect the details of your lodgement of records during the first quarter of 2004, and we will be advising all organisations of the changed requirements for next year, closer to the specified lodgement period.

In the meantime, would you please lodge your 2003 annual returns as soon as possible.

Should you wish to discuss this matter, please do not hesitate to contact me on (03) 8661 7788.

Yours sincerely
