Dear Sir

Re: – Australian Municipal, Administrative, Clerical and Services Union, National Office - financial report for year ending 30 June 2019 (FR2019/110)

I refer to the financial report of the National Office of the Australian Municipal, Administrative, Clerical and Services Union. The documents were lodged with the Registered Organisations Commission (ROC) on 26 November 2019.

The financial report has been filed. The financial report was filed based on a primary review. This involved confirming that the financial reporting timelines required under s.253, s.265, s.266 and s.268 of the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Act 2009 (RO Act) have been satisfied, all documents required under s.268 of the RO Act were lodged and that various disclosure requirements under the Australian Accounting Standards, RO Act and reporting guidelines have been complied with. A primary review does not examine all disclosure requirements.

You are not required to take any further action in respect of the report lodged. Please note that the financial report for the year ending 30 June 2020 may be subject to an advanced compliance review.

Reporting Requirements

The ROC website provides a number of factsheets in relation to the financial reporting process and associated timelines. The website also contains the s.253 reporting guidelines and a model set of financial statements. The ROC recommends that reporting units use these model financial statements to assist in complying with the RO Act, the s.253 reporting guidelines and Australian Accounting Standards. Access to this information is available via this link.

If you have any questions about the above or the reporting requirements, please do not hesitate to contact me by email at stephen.kellett@roc.gov.au.

Yours faithfully

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended 30 June 2019

1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

1(a) Basis of preparation

The financial statements are general purpose financial statements and have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB) that apply for the reporting period and the Fair Work (Registered Organisation) Act 2009. For the purpose of preparing the general purpose financial statements, the Australian Services Union - National Office is a not-for-profit entity.

The financial statements have been prepared on an accrual basis and in accordance with the historical cost basis of accounting, except for certain assets and liabilities are measured at fair value, as explained in the accounting policies below. Historical cost is generally based on the fair values of the consideration given in exchange for assets. The financial statements are presented in Australian dollars.

Except where otherwise stated, the accounting policies in the preparation of this financial report are consistent with those of the previous financial year. The financial statements were authorised for issue on the same date the statement by the Committee of Management was signed.

1(b) Comparative figures

When required by Accounting Standards, comparative figures have been adjusted to conform to changes in presentation for the current financial year.

1(c) Income Tax

No provision for income tax has been raised as the Union is exempt from income tax under Div 50 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. However, it still has obligations for Fringe Benefit Tax (FBT) and Goods and Services Tax (GST).

1(d) Goods and services tax (GST)

Revenue, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST), except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

Receivables and payable are stated inclusive of GST. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the ATO is included as part of receivables or payables in the statement of financial position.

Cash flows in the statement of cash flows are included on a gross basis and the GST component of cash flows arising from investing and financing activities which is recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is classified as operating cash flows.

1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

1(e) Leases

Finance leases

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

Where an asset is acquired by means of a finance lease, the asset is capitalised at either the fair value of the lease property or, if lower, the present value of minimum lease payments at the inception of the contract and a liability is recognised at the same time and for the same amount.

The discount rate used is the interest rate implicit in the lease. Leased assets are amortised over the period of the lease. Lease payments are allocated between the principal component and the interest expense.

Operating lease payments are expensed on a straight-line basis which is representative of the pattern of benefits derived from the leased assets.

Rental revenue from operating leases is recognised on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognised on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

1(f) Revenue and other income

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable.

Revenue from capitation fees is recognised on an accrual basis and recorded as revenue in the year to which it relates.

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when, the risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the buyer, the entity retains no managerial involvement or effective control over the goods, the revenue and transaction costs incurred can be reliably measured, and it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transactions will flow to the entity.

Revenue from employees by way of car contributions is recognised on an accruals basis and is brought to account as income on a progressive basis throughout the year.

Interest revenue is recognised on an accrual basis using the effective interest method.

Rental revenue from operating leases is recognised on a straight line basis over the term of the lease.

Trust distribution income is recognised when the right to receive the distribution has been established.

All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST).

1(g) Gains and losses

Gains and losses from disposal of assets are recognised when control of the asset has been passed to the buyer.

1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

1(h) Reimbursement from other reporting units

The amounts reimbursed for payroll tax, insurance premiums and other costs are treated as deductions from the corresponding expenses on the basis of the costs being expenses of the branch. Accordingly the income and expenses relating to reimbursement of these items are not recognised in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the National Office. For further details see Note 20(c) Transactions with Other Reporting Units.

1(i) Employee benefits

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees in respect of wages and salaries, annual leave, long service leave and termination benefits when it is probable that settlement will be required and they are capable of being measured reliably.

Liabilities for short-term employee benefits (as defined in AASB 119 Employee Benefits) and termination benefits which are expected to be settled within twelve months of the end of reporting period are measured at their nominal amounts. The nominal amount is calculated with regard to the rates expected to be paid on settlement of the liability.

Other long-term employee benefits which are expected to be settled beyond twelve months are measured as the present value of the estimated future cash outflows to be made by the reporting unit in respect of services provided by employees up to reporting date.

1(j) Inventories

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

1(k) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash is recognised at its nominal amount. Cash and cash equivalents comprises cash on hand, demand deposits and short-term highly liquid investments which are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value with original maturities of three months or less. Bank overdrafts are shown within short-term borrowings in current liabilities in the statement of financial position.

1(l) Financial instruments

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial assets are classified, at initial recognition, and subsequently measured at amortised cost, fair value through other comprehensive income (OCI), or fair value through profit or loss.

The classification of financial assets at initial recognition depends on the financial asset's contractual cash flow characteristics and the National Office business model for managing them. With the exception of trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component, the National Office initially measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs.

Australian Services Union - National Office

ABN: 28 519 971 998

Notes to the Financial Statements

1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

1(l) Financial instruments

In order for a financial asset to be classified and measured at amortised cost or fair value through OCI, it needs to give rise to cash flows that are 'solely payments of principal and interest' (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding. This assessment is referred to as the SPPI test and is performed at an instrument level.

The National Office's business model for managing financial assets refers to how it manages its financial assets in order to generate cash flows. The business model determines whether cash flows will result from collecting contractual cash flows, selling the financial assets, or both.

Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place (regular way trades) are recognised on the trade date, i.e., the date that the [reporting unit] commits to purchase or sell the asset.

Subsequent measurement

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in five categories:

- (Other) financial assets at amortised cost
- (Other) financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income
- Investments in equity instruments designated at fair value through other comprehensive income
- (Other) financial assets at fair value through profit or loss
- (Other) financial assets designated at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets at amortised cost

The National Office measures financial assets at amortised cost if both of the following conditions are met:

- The financial asset is held within a business model with the objective to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and
- The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding

Financial assets at amortised cost are subsequently measured using the effective interest (EIR) method and are subject to impairment. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised, modified or impaired.

The National Office's financial assets at amortised cost includes trade receivables and loans to related parties.

1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

1(l) Financial instruments

De-recognition

A financial asset is derecognised when:

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired or
- The National Office has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either:
 - (a) the National Office has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or
 - (b) the National Office has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the National Office has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if, and to what extent, it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership.

When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the National Office continues to recognise the transferred asset to the extent of its continuing involvement together with associated liability.

Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the statement of financial position if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Impairment of financial assets - Trade receivables

For trade receivables that do not have a significant financing component, the National Office applies a simplified approach in calculating expected credit losses (ECLs) which requires lifetime expected credit losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables.

Therefore, the National Office does not track changes in credit risk, but instead recognises a loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date. The National Office has established a provision matrix that is based on its historical credit loss experience, adjusted for forward-looking factors specific to the debtors and the economic environment.

1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

1(l) Financial instruments

Financial liabilities

The National Office measures all financial liabilities initially at fair value less transaction costs, subsequently financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

The financial liabilities of the National Office comprise trade payables, bank and other loans and finance lease liabilities.

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, at amortised cost unless or at fair value through profit or loss.

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of financial liabilities at amortised cost, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The National Office's financial liabilities include trade and other payables.

De-recognition

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in profit or loss.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended 30 June 2019

1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

1(m) Property, plant and equipment

Land and buildings

Freehold land and buildings are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation.

Plant and equipment

Plant and equipment are measured on the cost basis and are therefore carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

The carrying amount of plant and equipment is reviewed annually by national executives to ensure it is not in excess of the recoverable amount from these assets. The recoverable amount is assessed on the basis of depreciated replacement cost.

Depreciation

The depreciable amount of all fixed assets including buildings and capitalised leased assets, but excluding freehold land, is depreciated on a straight-line over the assets useful life to the National Office, commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use. Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the shorter of either the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful lives of the improvements. Land is not depreciated.

The depreciation rates used for each class of depreciable assets are:

Class of Fixed Assets
Buildings	2.5%
Motor vehicles	18.75%
Office furniture and equipment	10% - 33%

The residual values of assets, depreciation methods and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

The carrying amount of each asset is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with the carrying amount. These gains or losses are included in the statement of profit or loss.

Australian Services Union - National Office

ABN: 28 519 971 998

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended 30 June 2019

1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

1(m) Property, plant and equipment De-recognition

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon its disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use. Gains and losses on disposal are determined by comparing proceeds with the carrying amount. These gains and losses are included in the profit or loss in the statement of comprehensive income.

1(n) Investment property

Investment properties are properties held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation (including property under construction for such purposes). Investment properties are measured initially at its cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are measured at cost.

An investment property is derecognised upon disposal or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefits are expected from the disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the property (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in profit or loss in the period in which the property is derecognised.

1(o) Impairment of non-financial assets

At the end of each reporting period the National Office determines whether there is an evidence of an impairment indicator for non-financial assets. Where this indicator exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated and an impairment adjustment is made in all cases where the recoverable amount is less than its carrying amount.

The recoverable amount of an asset is the higher of the fair value less costs of disposal and the value in use. Value in use is the present value of the future cash flows expected to be derived from an asset.

Where the future economic benefit of an asset is not primarily dependent on the ability of the asset to generate future cash flows and the assets would be replaced if the National Office were deprived of the asset, its value in use is taken to be its depreciated replacement cost.

1(p) Contingent assets and liabilities

Contingent assets and liabilities are not recognised in the Statement of Financial Position and instead, where applicable, are reported in the relevant notes. They may arise from uncertainty as to the existence of an asset or a liability or represent an existing asset or liability in respect of which the amount cannot be reliably measured. Contingent assets are disclosed when settlement is probable but not virtually certain and contingent liabilities are disclosed when settlement is greater than remote.

1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

1(q) Australian Services Union branches

The following branches operate and conduct all of their business as a branch of the National Office:

- Victorian & Tasmanian Authorities & Services Branch
- NSW & ACT (Services) Branch
- NSW United Services Branch
- South Australian & Northern Territory Branch
- Victorian Private Sector Branch
- Western Australian Branch
- QLD (Services & Northern Administrative) Branch
- QLD Together Branch
- Taxation Officers' Branch

Australian Services Union branches are considered as reporting units under the National Office as per the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Act 2009 (the Act). However the activities of these branches are not consolidated into the National Office's accounts as the National Office does not have beneficial control. The branches have their own accounting processes, are required to be audited separately and have their own reporting obligations under the Act.

1(r) Significant accounting estimates and judgments

The preparation of financial statements require the National Office to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amount of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised and in any future periods affected. Australian Services Union - National Office

(i) Key estimates - Impairment

The National Office assesses impairment at the end of each reporting year by evaluating conditions specific to the National Office that may be indicative of impairment triggers. Recoverable amounts of relevant assets are reassessed using value-in-use calculations which incorporate various key assumptions.

(ii) Key judgment - Useful lives of property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are depreciated over their useful life and the depreciation rates are assessed when the assets are acquired or when there is a significant change that affects the remaining useful life of the asset.

(iii) Key judgment - Provision for impairment of receivables

The value of the provision for impairment of receivables is estimated by considering the ageing of receivables, communication with the debtors and prior history.

(iv) Key judgment - Short term highly liquid investments

The National Office has determined that short-term highly liquid investments are those with original maturities of three months or less.

(v) Key estimates - On-cost for employee entitlement provision

The National Office revised its estimates for on-cost for employee entitlement provision during the year to include superannuation, workcover and payroll tax.

1(s) Adoption of new and revised accounting standards

(i) Adoption of new Australian Accounting Standards requirements

The National Office has adopted all standards which became effective for the first time at 30 June 2019, the adoption of these standards has not caused any material adjustments to the reported financial position, performance or cash flow of the National Office

No accounting standard has been adopted earlier than the application date stated in the standard.

(ii) New Australian Accounting Standards

Adoption of new and revised accounting standards

The National Office has adopted all standards which became effective for the first time as at 30 June 2019. The adoption of these standards has not caused any material adjustments to the reported financial position, performance or cash flow of the National Office.

Future Australian Accounting Standards Requirements

The AASB has issued a number of new and amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations that have mandatory application dates for future reporting periods, some of which are relevant to the organisation. The National Office has decided not to early adopt any of the new and amended pronouncements. The National Office's assessment of the new and amended pronouncements that are relevant to the National Office but applicable in future reporting periods is set out below:

AASB 15: Revenue from Contracts with Customers

(applicable for annual reporting periods commencing on or after 1 January 2019)

When effective, this Standard will replace the current accounting requirements applicable to revenue with a single, principles-based model. Except for a limited number of exceptions, including leases, the new revenue model in AASB 15 will apply to all contracts with customers as well as non-monetary exchanges between entities in the same line of business to facilitate sales to customers and potential customers.

The core principle of the Standard is that an entity will recognise revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for the goods or services. To achieve this objective, AASB 15 provides the following five-step process:

Australian Services Union - National Office

ABN: 28 519 971 998

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended 30 June 2019

1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

1(s) Adoption of new and revised accounting standards

(ii) New Australian Accounting Standards

- identify the contract(s) with a customer;
- identify the performance obligations in the contract(s);
- determine the transaction price;
- allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract(s); and
- recognise revenue when (or as) the performance obligations are satisfied.

This Standard will require retrospective restatement, as well as enhanced disclosures regarding revenue.

The National Office anticipate that the adoption of AASB 15 will not have a significant impact on the entity's financial statements.

AASB 16: Leases

(applicable for annual reporting periods commencing on or after 1 January 2019)

AASB 16 introduces a single lessee accounting model and requires a lessee to recognise assets and liabilities for all leases with a term of more than 12 months, unless the underlying asset is of low value. A lessee is required to recognise a right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying leased asset and a lease liability representing its obligations to make lease payments.

A lessee measures right-of-use assets similarly to other non-financial assets (such as property, plant and equipment) and lease liabilities similarly to other financial liabilities. As a consequence, a lessee recognises depreciation of the right-of-use asset and interest on the lease liability, and also classifies cash repayments of the lease liability into a principal portion and an interest portion and presents them in the statement of cash flows applying AASB 107 Statement of Cash Flows.

Assets and liabilities arising from a lease are initially measured on a present value basis. The measurement includes non-cancellable lease payments (including inflation-linked payments), and also includes payments to be made in optional periods if the lessee is reasonably certain to exercise an option to extend the lease, or not to exercise an option to terminate the lease.

Although management anticipate that the adoption of AASB 16 may have an impact on the National Office's financial statements, it is impracticable at this stage to provide a detailed assessment of such impact.

The new standard will result in Land and Buildings being recognised as a right to occupy asset and a corresponding lease liability. The lease cost will be recognised as a nominal lease cost and lease interest. The lease interest will be higher in the early years of the lease.

Analysis of total provisions

The liability for employee entitlements represents the amount accrued for annual leave and long service leave. The current portion represents entitlements that have vested due to employees having completed the required period of service whilst the non-current portion represents those entitlements that have not yet vested.

National Office does not expect the full amount of the liability classified as current to be settled within the next twelve months. However, there is no unconditional right to defer settlement in the event of employees wishing to use their entitlements and, accordingly, the amount must be shown as a current liability.

The term for the ACT rental property is for five years and commenced 1 August 2016. The lease expires on 31 July 2021. The National Office has fifty per cent interest in the property which is shown as an asset of National Office and therefore is entitled to fifty per cent of the future minimum lease rentals receivable.

The Australian Municipal Administrative Clerical & Services Union is registered as a body corporate with perpetual succession under the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Act 2009 and is divided into the National Office and nine constituent branches (each a separate reporting unit).

Notwithstanding that each branch of the Union is a separate reporting unit for financial reporting purposes under the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Act 2009 all assets including property, plant and equipment vests in the National Office in accordance with the rules of the organisation.

The Union together with National Office has a contingent liability in relation to all debts incurred by other reporting units. No provision is considered necessary on the basis that each reporting unit is able to pay its debts as and when they fall due from their own income and reserves.

Apart from the above matters, members of the committee of management are not aware of any contingent asset or liability which existed at balance date, nor to the date of issue of this financial report, which would have a material effect in relation to the disclosures in the report.

15 Events Occurring After the Reporting Date

No matters or circumstances have arisen since the end of the financial year which significantly affected or may significantly affect the operations of the National Office, the results of those operations, or the state of affairs of the National Office in future financial years.

19 Financial Risk Management

19(a) Net fair value of financial instruments

The fair values disclosed in the above table have been determined based on the following methodology:

Cash and cash equivalents, trade and other receivables, trade and other payables are short term instruments in nature whose carrying value is equivalent to fair value. Long term borrowings relate to a commercial loan whose carrying value is equivalent to fair value. Trade and other payables excludes amounts provided for relating to annual and long service leave which is not considered a financial instrument.

19(b) Financial risk management policies

The National Executive have overall responsibility for the establishment of the Union's financial risk management framework. This includes the development of policies covering specific areas.

Risk management policies and systems are reviewed regularly to reflect changes in market conditions and the National Office's activities. The overall risk management policies seek to assist the National Office in meeting its financial targets, while minimising potential adverse effects on financial performance.

Mitigation strategies for specific risks faced are described below:

Credit risk

Exposure to credit risk relating to financial assets arises from the potential non-performance by counterparties of contract obligations that could lead to a financial loss to the National Office and arises principally from the National Office's receivables.

Credit risk exposure

The maximum exposure to credit risk by class of recognised financial assets at the end of the reporting period is equivalent to the carrying amount and classification of those financial assets (net of any provisions) as presented in the statement of financial position.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended 30 June 2019

19 Financial Risk Management

19(c) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk arises from the possibility that the National Office might encounter difficulty in settling its debts or otherwise meeting its obligations related to financial liabilities. The entity manages this risk through the following mechanisms:

- preparing forward-looking cash flow analysis in relation to its operational, investing and financial activities which are monitored throughout the year;
- maintaining a reputable credit profile;
- managing credit risk related to financial assets;
- only investing surplus cash with major financial institutions; and
- maintaining adequate reserves.

19(d) Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices.

19(e) Price risk

The National Office is not exposed to any material commodity price risk.

19(f) Interest rate risk

Exposure to interest rate risk arises on financial assets and financial liabilities recognised at the end of the reporting period, whereby a future change in interest rates will affect future cash flows or the fair value of fixed rate financial instruments. The National Office is also exposed to earnings volatility on floating rate instruments.

The financial instruments that expose the National Office to interest rate risk are limited to held-to-maturity financial assets and cash at bank.

The activities of the National Office are not sensitive to changes in interest rates as neither interest income nor interest on borrowings are significant to the organisation.

Independent Audit Report to the members of Australian Services Union - National Office

Audit Report

We have audited the financial report of Australian Services Union - National Office, which comprises the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2019, the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, the statement of changes in equity and the statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies, subsection 255(2A) report and the statement by the committee of management.

In our opinion:

- (a) the general purpose financial report of Australian Services Union presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position as at 30 June 2019, and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended and is in accordance with:
 - (i) Australian Accounting Standards; and
 - (ii) any other requirements imposed by the Reporting Guidelines or Part 3 of Chapter 8 of the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Act 2009 (the RO Act).
- (b) the management's use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the National Office's financial report is appropriate.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibility section of our report. We are independent of the National Office in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We confirm that the independence declaration required by the Australian Accounting Standards (including Australian Accounting Interpretations) and the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Act 2009, which has been given to the committee of managements of the National Office, would be in the same terms if given to the committee of managements as at the time of this auditor's report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Information Other than the Financial Report and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Committee of Management is responsible for the other information. The other information obtained at the date of this auditor's report is in the Operating Report accompanying the financial report.

Our opinion on the financial report does not cover the other information and accordingly we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with my audit of the financial report, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial report or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Committee of Management's Responsibility for the Financial Report

The National Executive being the committee of management of the National Office is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial report in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards (including Australian Accounting Interpretations) and the RO Act, and for such internal control as the National Executive determine is necessary to enable the preparation and fair presentation of the financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, the Committee of Management is responsible for assessing the Reporting Unit's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Committee of Management either intend to liquidate the Reporting Unit or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our objective is to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial report.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

Australian Services Union - National Office

ABN: 28 519 971 998

Independent Audit Report to the members of Australian Services Union - National Office

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Reporting Unit's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Committee of Management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Committee of Management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Reporting Unit's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify my opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Reporting Unit to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the Committee of Management regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We declare that Peter Shields is an approved auditor registered under the RO Act.

1. Review of principal activities, the results of those activities and any significant changes in the nature of those activities during the year

[Refer s.254(2)(a)]

The results and any significant changes in the nature of those activities during the year have been dominated by the following activities:

The (4 yearly) Award Review process commenced in early 2014, continued in 2015-2018 and won't be completed until the end of 2019. The FWC Full Bench determined the 4 yearly review would comprise of Common Award issues, the review of individual modern awards and would be allocated into 4 groups to be reviewed commencing in mid-2014. The majority of the ASU awards were allocated to groups 3 and 4 to be dealt with in the period 2015-2019. These awards include:

- Airline Operations-Ground Staff Award 2010
- Business Equipment Award 2010
- Clerks – Private Sector Award 2010

The ASU National Office has also lodged applications/submissions/witness statements with the FWC supporting common claims for all modern awards and opposing employer claims in relation to : annual leave, public holidays; award flexibility/facilitative provisions; casual and part-time employment; transitional/sunset provisions relating to accident pay, district/remote allowances, annualised salaries redundancy and penalty rates.

The ASU has been particularly active in supporting the ACTU Common Claims for minimum award entitlements to Domestic Violence leave, which the ASU pioneered in enterprise agreements in 2013, and Family Friendly Working Arrangements. The ASU has also led the fight to retain/enhance district/remote allowances and also led the fight in improving annualised salary clauses in 6 Modern Awards. Full Bench cases have been conducted on all these matters.

1.4 National Campaigns

a) NDIS Campaign

Throughout 2018-2019 the ASU has undertaken a number of actions regarding the NDIS:

- The ASU lobbied Federal Labor in 2018, and campaigned for and won Labor committing to a trial of the NDIS Portable Training Entitlement Scheme in three locations around the country if elected and a trial being included in the Federal ALP Platform;
- The union also won commitments from Labor to list the staffing cap to create more jobs for disability workers and an NDIS pricing review;
- The union met with Federal Ministerial and Departmental staff around the funding cliff for key mental health programs that our members work in, namely PHaMS, PIR and Day to Day Living;

- The union lodged a written submission to the Productivity Commission review into Mental Health and launched an online petition;
- The Royal Commission into Violence, Abuse, Neglect and Exploitation of People with Disability: the ASU lobbied together with People with Disability Australia for changes to the appointed commissioners due to conflicts of interest;
- NDIS campaign activities and social media garnered strong community support throughout the 2019 Federal Election campaign.

b) Stop Cut Rate Casuals

The ASU launched the Stop Cut-Rate Casuals campaign in March 2019 in response to employer group ABI attempting to introduce a new type of employment which they call 'flexible ongoing employment' to the SCHADS Award.

We call this new type of employment Cut-Rate Casual Employment because it is a cheaper and more insecure type of casual work and can apply to all jobs, including part and full-time.

Cut-Rate Casuals would mean no minimum hours of work, no regular roster, no right to say no and at least a 15% pay cut.

The union held live campaign briefing webinars for SACS members, attended the launch of the Per Capita-ACTU report on the proposed new employment type, and ran a social media and workplace endorsement campaign on the issue. The union will continue the campaign and introduce a new industrial strategy as the case is proceeding.

c) Get Super Working for Women

Since the launch of our "Not so Super for Women" report the issue of the inadequacy of superannuation for women has gained momentum.

Our report and/or the issue has been sighted in the media more than 30 times since the July 2017 launch, including TV, newspapers, online and radio.

The union met with the ALP in October 2018 and arranged for a delegation of ASU members and officials to attend a roundtable with the Shadow Minister in November 2018 to lobby for our claims in the campaign. Federal Labor adopted two of our claims - namely, abolishing the $450 threshold for super contributions to be made, and paying superannuation on government paid parental leave.

After further lobbying in the lead up to the ALP National Conference in December 2018, Labor also agreed to an expert review of our proposal for an accumulation pathway and other measures including government top ups to superannuation accounts that aren't on track for an adequate retirement, and the Federal ALP Platform includes commitments to our key campaign demands.

The union also wrote to a large number of superannuation funds to ask them what they are doing to improve retirement outcomes for women, as this is an issue of great concern to ASU members and the wider community.

d) We Won't Wait – Domestic Violence Leave Campaign

The ASU campaign "We Won't Wait" continues as we strive to achieve 10 days paid family violence leave in the NES. The ALP agreed to implement this change when in Government which we put down to the campaign of ASU members.

ASU branches continue to spread this type of leave to hundreds of agreements covering hundreds and thousands of employees across Australia.

e) Change the Rules

Throughout 2018-19 the ASU actively campaigned as part of the ACTU Change the Rules campaign and 2019 Federal Election campaign. The ASU campaigned on key issues including secure jobs, fair pay, reducing inequality, domestic and family violence leave, closing the gender pay gap and superannuation gap, improving paid parental leave, ending wage theft, and reversing penalty rate cuts.

The ASU engaged in political lobbying of MPs, target seat and community campaigning, workplace campaigning and social media on these and various other ASU issues, such as better funding for community services and NDIS changes.

ASU members vigorously campaigned in target seats around the country making persuasion phone calls, doorknocking, leafleting train stations, holding street stalls, attending campaign launches and events, and handing out at pre-poll and election day.

f) ASU Career Launchpad

The ASU Career Launchpad professional development program was launched in October 2017 following focus groups of local government indoor workers that provided positive results about the union offering online professional development to members. The focus groups and subsequent surveys have shown that these workers, along with many others in ASU industries do not receive sufficient, if any professional development through their employer and that offering professional development opportunities to members would attract new people to join the union and make members more likely to stay in the union.

In 2019 the ASU Career Launchpad program expanded from live webinar courses to also include short videos training courses and recorded webinars available to members on-demand, and the customised ASU Career Launchpad database, learning management system and website were also launched.

From February to July 2019 we ran 26 live webinar sessions on 13 different topics including Dealing with Difficult Customers/Customer Aggression, Excel and PowerPoint, Understanding Stress to Avoid Burnout, Introduction to Leading Others, Effective Time Management and more. Each live webinar course is run twice – at lunchtime and in the evening to ensure members have the best possible chance of attending around work and family commitments, and time zone differences.

Since launching the ASU Career Launchpad, there have been over 5,300 member registrations for 44 online live professional development webinars, and the program is a hit with overwhelmingly positive feedback from ASU members around the country.

ASU Career Launchpad courses are attended by ASU members from all over Australia including all major cities as well as far regional and rural locations – from Mount Isa to Hobart, Broken Hill to Perth, Sydney, Whyalla, Kalgoorlie and more – the online nature of the program allows members from all parts of the country to participate and interact with each other. This includes a large number of WA members who attend the live webinars despite the time differences.

g) National Communications and Improving the Member Experience

Throughout 2018-19 the ASU has undertaken extensive research and data analysis aimed at improving the member experience and membership value. This work has included:

- Streamlining member benefits and the membership value proposition;
- Coordinating the development of a new membership system, data and website project;
- Developing new member engagement and retention strategies;
- Brand research and development;
- Analysis of member and industry demographic profiles to develop customised member journeys;
- The creation of a suite of custom videos and new member communications.

h) Young worker and student engagement

In December 2018 the ASU launched a new project to engage with young workers and students in ASU industries around the country. The union met with dozens of unions and other organisations working with young people to identify best practice engagement and retention strategies.

The union commenced an intensive student engagement project for young people entering the workforce in social and community services, and launched a series of professional development videos targeted at assisting young people newly in the workforce.

i) ASU Campaigns, Communications and Growth Team

The union's growth and campaign work is managed by ASU Assistant National Secretary Linda White. Throughout 2018-19 the growth and campaign work has included:

- Coordination of whole of union campaigns, including Change the Rules, NDIS, Domestic and Family Violence Leave and Get Super Working for Women;
- Coordination of ASU Industry Campaigning including Social and Community Services and NDIS campaigns;
- Coordination of national political campaigns for the union, including responding to national inquiries and performing critical research;
- Prioritised National Bargaining campaigns;
- Organisation and management of a comprehensive professional development program for members – the ASU Career Launchpad;
- Development and implementation of membership engagement and retention strategies, including streamlining member benefits and improving the member experience;
- Coordinating the development of membership systems, data and websites projects;
- Young member and student engagement projects;
- National communications, including content, design and production;
- Running regular National ASU Communications Officers meetings for branch officials across the country, and National Youth Committee meetings.

j) Energy Industry – “Just Transition” Campaign

In 2015-2016 the ASU commenced a national campaign to assist members in the energy industry impacted by the transition from fossil fuels to renewables. This has led to the closure of the Port Augusta Power Station and the Leigh Creek Mine in South Australia in 2016 and Hazelwood Power Station in the LaTrobe Valley in March 2017, costing hundreds of jobs. The ASU is devising policy papers, lodging submissions and lobbying Federal and State Governments to assist workers to achieve a “just transition” by providing re-training and re-deployment into emerging renewable energy generators and protecting jobs in local communities.

Regarding lobbying politicians, in September 2018, the ASU held its National Energy Industry Committee meeting in Canberra, where for 2 days Union Officials and Delegates met with dozens of Members of Parliament around Just Transition matters, particularly establishing a National Just Transition Authority. Meanwhile, our Committee meeting was attended by current ACTU President, Michele O'Neil, and former President of the ACTU, Ged Kearney, who is now the MP for Cooper. Both of whom supported the establishment of such an Authority.

As a result of our lobbying activities in concert with other Energy unions, the Federal ALP did adopt as its policy the establishment of a National Just Transition Authority. Unfortunately, however, as a result of the ALP not winning the election in May 2019, the Just Transition Authority has not yet been realised.

k) Local Government Campaigns

i) Local Government Financial Sustainability

The ASU is always campaigning to get the Federal Government to boost financial grants. Community expectations of Local Government are always growing with this Sector dealing with the frontline impact of Australia's increasing population and the demand for new infrastructure and services.

The ASU continually engages with Local Government peak associations and academics in the field to improve the financial position of Local Governments which is good for the community and our members who work in Local Government. For example, the union lobbied for the Drought Communities Program which saw relief flowing in the form of $1m in grants to Local Government areas to help stimulate regional and rural economies. The funding will be used to construct new buildings, road upgrades, amenities upgrades and water infrastructure projects. This all amounts to more jobs and more secure employment for our members.

ii) Training

The ASU continually campaigns for more apprentices and trainees in the Local Government sector, for more training of members while sitting on various VET committees to promote local government employment. Thus the ASU was involved with the UTS Growing Apprentices and Trainees Project. This Project involved many Councils from around the country and other relevant organizations so to better promote new employees in a sector in which the workforce is ageing.

iii) Professional Development of Local Government Workers

In 2017 the ASU organised many focus groups of members non-members across the country to see what was important to local government workers and what the union could do to better service its members. One of the things that was important to local government workers was professional development. So over the course of 2018-19 the union has been developing and offering professional development courses to members across the country usually through things like webinars.

The union has run courses dealing with workplace bullying, stress and conflict, while also running practical courses such as understanding spreadsheets. These courses have proven to very popular with members and the ASU continues to think about further courses relevant to our members' jobs and careers.

l) Airlines Industry Ground Handling Campaign

In 2017-18, two ground handling companies, Dnata and Aerocare continue to undermine employment conditions in this part of the industry. The ASU has spent several thousands of dollars in legal fees in both the FWC and the Federal Court and many hours of ASU Organisers time and resources to stop this from happening.

Dnata-in early 2017, tried to have approved through the FWC an inferior enterprise agreement by establishing a company called Airport Handling Services Australia (AHSA) to undermine the existing dnata Ramp and Cargo Agreement and the dnata Passenger Service agreements in Victoria, NSW, SA and Queensland. During 2017, the ASU and its members across the country campaigned hard on the ground, in agreement negotiations and in the FWC to stop this from occurring with considerable success. The ASU stopped AHSA from proceeding and renewed all agreements during negotiations with Dnata in 2017-19.

Aerocare - In 2017-18, Aerocare tried to have approved by the FWC an inferior agreement which also includes split shifts, which the ASU opposed. The ASU and the TWU have fought a long battle on the ground, in the FWC and Federal Court to stop this agreement proceeding, which combined with Dnata's AHSA plan would have severely reduced employment conditions in this part of the airline industry. The split shifts dispute is being heard before the FWC and the Federal Court in 2018-19.

Furthermore, in 2019, the FWC terminated the old 2012 Aerocare Agreement, while the Federal Court has rejected Aerocare's view that the Award allows split shifts. The new Aerocare agreement is still before the FWC awaiting approval which the ASU opposes on the grounds that it does not meet the BOOT.

m) National ASU Industry Meetings

For decades now the ASU has been running National meetings of officials and delegates in some of its key industries, including Airlines, Energy, Local Government and the Social and Community Services Sector (SACS). The location of these meetings shift from State to State so as to give Branches better local access. It is at these meetings that many national campaigns are discussed and devised while keeping officials and delegates informed about current industry issues.

- Except for the Queensland Together and Victorian & Tasmanian Authorities & Services Branches and certain minor offices in the New South Wales United Services Branch all incumbent administrations were elected unopposed. In the two contested Branch elections incumbent administrations were re-elected.

c) Eligibility Rules

The ASU National Office maintains and protects the Union's eligibility rules, as required, and objecting, where necessary and appropriate to proposed variation to the rules of other registered organisations where the interests of the Union and its members are at stake.

A proposed s158A application by the AMIEU (R2018/275) in relation to federal coverage of their NSW state system coverage was settled by written undertakings to the ACTU preserving the status quo of ASU coverage in NSW and elsewhere.
