I acknowledge receipt of a Notification of Change to the office holders of the Communications, Electrical, Electronic, Energy, Information, Postal, Plumbing and Allied Services Union of Australia.

This information was lodged with the Registered Organisations Commission (the ROC) pursuant to the notification requirements in section 233(2) of the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Act 2009 (the RO Act).

The table below outlines the changes notified and when they were lodged. Our records have been updated accordingly. The document can be viewed on the Website through the list of Registered Organisations.

The ROC has created an Officer Induction Kit to assist new officers. The Kit includes a number of resources that will help an officer to understand their general duties as an officer and their specific duties as an officer in your organisation. Dear Mr Hicks,

CEPU external audit of changes in office and office holders

I refer to your letter of 28 February 2020 regarding the recent completion of an external audit by MGI Audit of compliance by the CEPU with its reporting obligations following its 2019 quadrennial elections and I thank you for providing a copy of the MGI Audit. It is clear to us that this type of transparency has benefits for members of the CEPU and at the same time assists the Registered Organisations Commission (ROC) to exercise our regulatory functions.

The audit was foreshadowed in your letter dated 30 September 2019 (received on 2 October 2019), which enclosed an amended notification of change, following the CEPU's identification of several errors in an earlier notification of change dated 15 August 2019.

Those errors related to the failure to identify the cessation of two offices (and consequential changes with respect to the persons who held those offices) as a result of the reduction in the number of State Council offices in the NSW Branch of the EES Division.

We understand that the number of State Council offices following each election is based upon a calculation of financial membership in each Section, current as at the date of the close of nominations. This can cause the number of offices to increase or decrease automatically, triggering a change that is required to be notified under section 233(2) of the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Act 2009. We acknowledge your advice that an administrative oversight in identifying such decreases resulted in the late notifications (falling outside the statutory obligations of the CEPU) which have been acknowledged in your letters.

As you are aware from the CEPU's recent experience in the matter of ROC v CEPU [2020] FCA 96, the record keeping obligations imposed upon registered organisations are important and non-compliance can give rise to significant penalties.

You will also be aware that the obligation was referred to on 25 September 2019 by Michael Wright who is the National Assistant Secretary of the Electrical Trades Union (ETU) as part of his evidence to the Senate Education and Employment Legislation Committee's inquiry into the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Amendment (Ensuring Integrity) Bill 2019. To his significant credit and among other things, he said the following:

'The CEPU – the broader union of which the ETU is a part – is currently awaiting a decision from Justice Flick. We've been prosecuted for 82 late notifications of change in office-holders and four failures to maintain a list of officers.... Let me be crystal clear: whilst these contraventions were the result of administrative failings, it is still a legislative requirement that we do it. We take it seriously. In 2015 we started implementing what we say is the most robust governing system in place in any registered organisation, because we had these historical failings. I do not cavil at all with the requirement for registered organisations to notify changes in office holders and the like. That is a crystal-clear obligation which should apply.'

The Federal Court judgment also highlighted the importance of organisations who engage in contraventions seeking to remedy the situation and to address the reasons for non-compliance, including by putting in place arrangements to improve future compliance.

Having regard to the CEPU's previous non-compliance and the importance of ongoing improvement of processes and systems, the ROC welcomes the proactive steps taken by the CEPU to identify and remediate both the previous and these more recent late notifications.

In so far as the more recent late notifications which were subsequent to the conduct of the Federal Court trial in ROC v CEPU [2020] FCA 96, we note the steps you have taken to obtain an external audit to ensure the integrity of the CEPU's reporting following its quadrennial elections. Further, we note the CEPU is considering the implementation of recommendations proposed by MGI Audit to further improve its processes.

It is of significance to note that during the 2019 calendar year, the CEPU notified in excess of 271 changes, of which it appears that only three were late (in potential contravention of its statutory obligations). We acknowledge that the CEPU has swiftly recognised, remediated, self-reported the errors, and audited the integrity of its processes.

Not only does this represent a very high level of compliance, in the context of previous serious and systemic non-compliance, it appears to us to be a case study of how governance can be improved. This is to the significant credit of the CEPU's leadership which is consistent with the promotion of the democratic functioning, transparency and accountability of the organisation to its members.

Of course, the matters raised in your letters of 30 September 2019 and 28 February 2020 reinforce the need for ongoing attentiveness having regard to the inherent challenges in meeting the CEPU's reporting obligations. In this particular case, the error has apparently arisen from an automatic change to the number of offices as a result of a decrease in the number of financial members in one of the Branch's Sections.

We would be open to engaging further with you if you consider that the ROC could assist the CEPU to further develop policies and procedures that will identify such changes in future.

In the interests of transparency for members, and appropriate recognition to the CEPU, I propose to publish this letter along with your letter of 28 February 2020 and the MGI report on the relevant annual return file on our website.

Please let me know by close of business Wednesday 11 March 2020 if you have any concerns about this intention, particularly with respect to the MGI Audit.

Please do not hesitate to contact me or Patrick Coyle (patrick.coyle@roc.gov.au) if you wish to discuss any aspect of this matter.

Yours faithfully

Dear Mr Bielecki,

CEPU External Audit of Changes in Office and Office Holders

I refer to the above and to my correspondence of 30 September 2019. I enclose for your attention:

- MGI Audit of CEPU Changes in Office and Office Holders;

As previously advised, a mistake was identified in a change in office arising out of quadrennial elections in the NSW Branch of the Electrical, Energy and Services Division (ED NSW). This mistake has since been rectified.

So as to ensure confidence in the CEPU's systems, I commissioned Mr Graeme Kent of MGI Audit to audit whether:

- a. all changes to offices and office holders arising out of the most recent quadrennial elections had been properly recorded in the CEPU's list of offices and office holders; and
- b. the notifications of change consequent upon these changes have been lodged with the ROC.

MGI Auditors have completed the audit report which is enclosed for the information of the ROC. MGI concluded¹:

- that all changes to offices and office holders, other than that already identified, arising out of the most recent quadrennial elections have been properly recorded in the CEPU's list of offices and office holders; and
- all notifications of change to offices and office holders have been properly provided to the ROC.

The CEPU notes that MGI has made a number of recommendations in its audit report and responds to these recommendations as follows:

- 1) Recommendation - The CEPU consider implementing an electronic system (p.4)

CEPU response - The CEPU agrees that automating aspects of its compliance systems around office holders would improve the reliability of the system. To this end the union is currently investigating an automated text messaging system and, if this should prove worthwhile, will integrate this into our compliance system.

- 2) Recommendation - Each reporting unit be allowed to update the electronic system with changes (p.4)

CEPU response - In view of the history of our reporting system, the CEPU needs to maintain a centralised list and centralised control of the list and notifications of changes to office holders. While this may be reviewed in the future, there are no plans at this stage to decentralise the notification of changes to office holders or the keeping of lists of offices and office holders.

- 3) Recommendation - Reporting units provide on a monthly basis only those office holders who have changed (p.5).

CEPU response - While the CEPU does not have plans to implement this recommendation at this stage, we are continuing to consider this option.

- 4) Recommendation - Reporting units provide the National Office with the extract from their minutes where the COM accepts a resignation or appoints a new member to fill a casual vacancy (p.5).

CEPU response – we are in discussions with branches about a process whereby branches provide an extract from the committee of management minutes detailing the notice of a resignation or the appointment of a new office holder.

I again express my and the Union's regret for the mistakes. The CEPU is continually reviewing our processes to ensure our list of offices and office holders and our notifications of change are correct.

Yours faithfully

Time frames

Regulation 151 of the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Regulations 2009 prescribes that a notification of change pursuant to section 233(2) of the RO Act must be lodged within 35 days of the change occurring. I note that this is a civil penalty provision and non-compliance may leave your organisation open to Federal Court proceedings.

Officer Induction Kit

The ROC has created an Officer Induction Kit to assist new officers. The Kit includes a number of resources that will help an officer to understand their general duties as an officer and their specific duties as an officer in your organisation. It also includes tools to guide an officer's understanding of compliance dates and other reporting obligations.

The kit should not be printed as it is updated regularly and some of the documents are interactive. The ROC strongly recommends that all new officers, and officers who are seeking more information on their obligations and duties, are given the link to the officer induction kit. Please direct your new officers to the kit which is on the ROC's fact sheets, templates and webinars page, under Officers.

Mandatory disclosures

Please ensure that all new holders of office are advised of their obligations to make disclosures regarding remuneration, non-cash benefits and material personal interests. Details are contained in the RO Act and are summarised in the ROC's Disclosures Fact Sheet.

Mandatory training

Please also note that Section 293K of the RO Act requires each officer with duties that relate to the financial management to undertake approved training that covers the duties within 6 months after the person begins to hold office. Please ensure that relevant officers are advised of the requirement to undertake approved training. Please also ensure that they undertake the training within the required timeframe. Further information about training is provided in our officer financial training fact sheet.

Yours sincerely

Registered Organisations Commission
