Officer Induction Kit

Fair Work
Commission

Welcome

Welcome to this Officer Induction Kit. Firstly, we would like to congratulate you on your new appointment, or if you are a returning officer to wish you every success in your ongoing role.

This induction kit has been provided by the Fair Work Commission (the Commission) for use by new and returning officers. It is intended to assist officers to learn their obligations under the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Act 2009 (RO Act).

Officers of unions and employer associations are entrusted with guiding their organisations. They do this by making decisions in the best interests of their members. This is at the core of what the Commission's Registered Organisations Services Branch is interested in.

Officers are responsible for ensuring that organisations and their branches comply with the obligations under the RO Act. You need to become familiar with these obligations. For many of you, it will be the first time you have personal obligations and the risk of civil or criminal penalties for not complying with a body of laws that apply to your role as an officer.

How to use this induction kit

This induction kit is not a comprehensive list of the requirements, obligations and responsibilities of officers. It is a beginning. Officers should ensure they review the RO Act, materials on the Commission's website and their organisation's rules and policies.

The induction kit is not a static document to be downloaded once, printed and handed out to officers as they are elected or appointed into the future. The documents in the induction kit will be altered to reflect any changes to the law, in response to feedback or when more helpful information becomes available.

As such, the bulk of the induction kit is available through the list of hyperlinks in the next section. These hyperlinks will take you to where the most up-to-date document is contained on the

Fair Work
Commission

Commission's website. These documents include fact sheets and tools, like the regulatory timeframes calculator.

The induction kit also contains a number of activities for new officers to complete that will assist in understanding their fuller responsibilities and where information is located.

The Commission's website contains further fact sheets, templates, guidance notes, checklists, tools and webinars, broken down by topic, to assist officers and their organisations/branches to comply with the legislative obligations.

If you have any questions please email the Commission on regorgs@fwc.gov.au or contact us by telephone on 1300 341 665.

General descriptions of offices in registered organisations

Organisations registered under the RO Act are democratic organisations run by people elected to hold office.

What powers and duties do the offices in my organisation hold? (section 141(1)(b)(i))

The RO Act requires the rules of organisations to provide for the powers and duties of committees and the offices (section 141(1)(b)(i)). To find out the powers and duties of offices in your organisation you must refer to its rulebook.

A general guide about what you might expect in your rulebook

This is a general guide about the types of duties that you might find in your organisation's rulebook for particular offices. Your organisation may have all or some of these offices and they may have the same or different powers and duties.

Please refer to the rules of your organisation for the specific requirements and responsibilities of these offices. If your rules have specific requirements that are different to the general information below, please follow the rules.

President

The President generally provides leadership, vision and direction and ensures that business is properly conducted. The President is required to have sound knowledge of the organisation to ensure regulatory requirements are adhered to and that policy is applied correctly. The President can establish effective procedures within the confines of the rules, delegate responsibilities and supervise the implementation of decisions. The role bears significant responsibility, accountability, governance and authority in accordance with the law and the organisation's rules.

Fair Work
Commission

A President's role may incorporate the following:

- Senior leadership role
- Overseeing the operation of the organisation
- Ensuring strong governance, in accordance with the law and the organisation's rules
- Possessing sound knowledge of the organisation, its rules, policies and procedures
- Presiding at meetings, ensuring compliance with policy and procedures
- Representing the organisation externally
- Leading on the resolution of any internal disputes
- Acting within the confines of procedure and policy
- Acting as a signatory.

Please refer to your rules to find out about the President's role in your organisation.

Vice President

The Vice President generally supports and assists the President and other officers with their duties to ensure goals are met. They should have a good understanding of the President's role so they can assume the duties and responsibilities of the President in their absence. The Vice President works closely with the President to co-ordinate activities, communicate and implement strategic visions, guide committee members and ensure the efficient management of the organisation.

A Vice President's role may incorporate the following:

- Senior leadership role
- Ensuring strong governance, in accordance with the law and the organisation's rules
- Possessing sound knowledge of the organisation, its rules, policies and procedures
- Providing support to the President and other officers
- Assuming the role of President in their absence
- Performing other responsibilities as assigned by the President

Fair Work
Commission

- Acting as a signatory.

Please refer to your rules to find out about the Vice President's role in your organisation.

Secretary

The Secretary generally manages administrative functions and leads negotiations. The position is often the main contact point and source of information for members. The Secretary deals with correspondence, maintains records, consults with members and convenes events and meetings. They support the office in the management and application of proper work procedures. They are usually the officer responsible for lodged documents and making declarations on behalf of the organisation.

A Secretary's role may incorporate the following:

- Senior leadership role
- Keeping the register of members
- Ensuring strong governance in accordance with the law and organisation's rules
- Possessing sound knowledge of the organisation, its rules, policies and procedures
- Responsibility for the effective administration of the organisation
- Acting as the main point of communication
- Dealing with correspondence
- Convening and attends all meetings of the organisation
- Preparing reports, notices and meeting agendas (in consultation with other officers)
- Distributing full and accurate minutes and papers
- Maintaining an up-to-date copy of the rules
- Arranging for information, membership and financial records to be properly kept
- Lodging documents and applications with the Fair Work Commission (the Commission)
- Ensuring all statutory obligations are met
- Leading negotiations

Fair Work
Commission

- Acting as a signatory.

Please refer to your rules to find out about the Secretary's role in your organisation.

Assistant Secretary

The Assistant Secretary generally provides the Secretary with help and support in the day-to-day running of the organisation. They should be familiar with the Secretary's role so that they can assume the duties and responsibilities of the Secretary in their absence. The Assistant Secretary works closely with the Secretary to co-ordinate the administrative functions, help to deal with correspondence and record keeping, assist in convening events and meetings and ensure generally the efficient management of the organisation in accordance with its statutory obligations.

An Assistant Secretary's role may incorporate the following:

- Senior leadership role
- Ensuring strong governance in accordance with the law and organisation's rules
- Possessing sound knowledge of the organisation, its rules, policies and procedures
- Providing administrative support to the Secretary
- Assuming the role of Secretary in their absence
- Performing other responsibilities as assigned by the Secretary.

Please refer to your rules to find out about the Assistant Secretary's role in your organisation

Treasurer

All officers may have responsibility for spending and expenditure. However, the Treasurer has the overall responsibility of guarding against unwise and improper expenditure. They are responsible for the day-to-day financial management of the organisation and maintaining accurate financial records to ensure compliance with statutory requirements. The Treasurer reports regularly to the organisation, providing the case for responsible expenditure, and updates members periodically on matters related to funds and financial performance.

Fair Work
Commission

A Treasurer's role may incorporate the following:

- Senior governance role
- Ensuring strong governance in accordance with the law and organisation's rules
- Possessing sound knowledge of the organisation, its rules, policies and procedures
- Overseeing the day-to-day running of finances
- Checking accuracy of financial statements, accounts and records
- Managing accounts, financial planning, budgeting and banking
- Overseeing an annual audit of finances and provision of report to members
- Advising the organisation of any or potential non-compliance
- Ensuring members are properly informed of financial performance and financial position
- Acting as a signatory.

Please refer to your rules to find out about the Treasurer's role in your organisation

Committee of Management Member

Committees of Management determine the direction of the organisation. Members of the committee function within a set of objectives and procedures and ensure standards are consistently met. They prepare and monitor the organisation's policies, strategies and plans, and ensure that resources are allocated appropriately within the rules. Members execute strategies in relation to key issues affecting the organisation. The Committee of Management might be referred to in your rules as the Board, Executive or Council.

The role of a member of the Committee of Management may incorporate the following:

- A leadership role
- Ensuring strong governance in accordance with the law and organisation's rules
- Possessing sound knowledge of the organisation, its rules, policies and procedures
- Developing and implement policy
- Overseeing the management of the organisation

Fair Work
Commission

- Keeping members informed
- Considering and making alterations to the organisation's rules.

Please refer to your rules to find out about the Committee of Managements role in your organisation

Acting officers

Assistant Secretaries, Vice Presidents and other officers may from time-to-time as they step up to act more senior role due to a temporary absence To exercise the powers of the role, for instance lodging documents as an Acting Secretary, the rules must provide for the ability to 'act' as the other officer.

Please refer to your rules to find out about the ability to act within another officer's role
